Whitehouse Wind Symphony Free Holiday Concert Series

The Whitehouse Wind Symphony, a community band directed by Branchburg resident James P. Sheeley Jr., will hold three holiday concerts this December at various locations throughout Hunterdon County, New Jersey.

This annual holiday concert series is extremely popular among Hunterdon residents and is one of the band's most anticipated events, featuring classic Christmas carols and well-loved holiday selections.

The first concert is scheduled for Friday, December 4, 2026, at 7:30 p.m. at Whitehouse United Methodist Church (the band's namesake and rehearsal venue), located at 73 Old Highway 28 in Whitehouse. Parking is available behind the church and on the street. The church is fully wheelchair accessible, with elevator access at the west entrance.

The second concert will be on Sunday, December 6, 2026, at 2 p.m. at Flemington United Methodist Church, located at 116 Main Street in Flemington. Several municipal parking lots are nearby. The church is fully wheelchair accessible via a ramp at the Main Street entrance.

The third concert is set for Saturday, December 12, 2026, at 2 p.m. at Readington Reformed Church, located at 124 Readington Road in Readington. A gravel parking lot immediately east of the education wing, with additional parking available on the grass field behind the cemetery. A drop-off area at the rear of the education wing provides access to a chair lift for visitors with mobility challenges. Please note that the restrooms are accessible only by stairs.

All three concerts are free and open to the public. Donations are welcome and appreciated to support the band, a non-profit run entirely by volunteer musicians, as well as the host churches.
